

College - Bound Seniors Indicate Acceptances

When colleges across the country open their doors this fall, many of Woodward's 543 graduating seniors of the class of '61 will be entering through those portals. Though the full count of all Woodward seniors planning to seek higher education is not in, 151 of the 250 college-bound seniors have indicated that they will attend the University of Cincinnati. Of these, most will attend the College of Arts and Sciences, Teacher's College, or the Business Administration College. There has been a notable increase of those students planning to attend the two year University College: 25 this year as compared with 5 students last year. Curtsinger and Pearce Will Speak June 14

The Valedictorian of the Class of 1961 is Martha Curtsinger, and the Salutatorian is senior class president Jim Pearce, announced Miss Emily T. Curry, English teacher and head judge of the Commencement contests. Martha will give the Commencement Address at graduation and Jim will give the shorter Welcome Address.

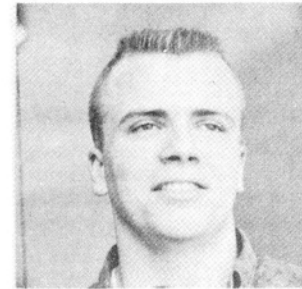

These two students are the winners of a series of contests held during the first week of May. Other contenders for these two honors were: Pat Trachsel, Carol Jacobs, Maureen Glynn, Linda Schwartz, Lester Schmerr, Ronald Brinkerhoff, Frank Ciboch, and James Crocker.

The judges for the Commencement contests were Mr. William Schreiner, Mr. Roman Schweikert, and Mr. John Anaple. They judged the contestants primarily on presentation and secondarily on content.

At Woodward, Valedictorian does not necessarily mean first in the class scholastically. Martha and Jim were chosen primarily for their speaking ability. Grades were only the basis for selection for participation in the contest.
